Are you a dog owner who lives in LA?

Are you planning a trip and are unsure of where to leave your dog while you're way?

Continue reading to learn about 15 dog boarding kennels in Los Angeles.

1. Wagville

Wagville is a boarding facility for your dog with a holistic view, where your pup can receive special services offered to make your pup's "vacation" extra special. The highly trained and certified staff at Wagville strive to provide a complete understanding of your dog's needs, and to provide for all aspects of your dog's well-being including nutrition, exercise, social interaction, play, and overall health. While your dog is boarded at the facility, your pup will enjoy social interaction in the doggie daycare during daytime hours. There is indoor and outdoor space provided, and comfortable sleeping doggie beds. Staff is on site 24 hours per day.

Standard rates for a 24-hour period are $50, however, several options, including private sleeping arrangements, or sleeping with a caregiver are also available for an additional cost.

Other services that can be obtained for an additional fee include a doggie shuttle bus, grooming, massage, training, and supplies from the on-site natural pet supply store.

Prior Requirements: Wagville's canine clients must spend a day in the daycare facility before overnight stays to adjust to the setting and minimize stress. A current flea program and medication is required. All dogs over 6 months of age should be spayed or neutered and owners need to provide documentation for up to date DDHLP, Bordetella and Rabies vaccinations.

Wagville in Los Angeles is located at 2400 N. San Fernando Rd. They can be contacted by phone at (323) 222-4442 or by email at info@wagville.com.

2. Dogwood Daycare and Boarding

Located at 8652 Venice Boulevard, Los Angeles, between Robertson and La Cienega Boulevards, Dogwood Daycare and Boarding provides a peaceful, clean, safe boarding facility for your dog with 24 hour, on site staff, and security surveillance. They provide 12000 square feet of Indoor and outdoor space. The facility is cage free. Fees for cage free overnight boarding are $55 per 24-hour period. There is a limit of 25 dogs being kept overnight at any one time so that individual attention and a comfortable environment can be provided for your dog. Pet owners should bring their own food and treats so that there is minimal disruption to your dog's regular routine. Your pet's personal bedding and toys are also recommended. Baths are available for an additional fee.

Prior Requirements: Dogwood Daycare and Boarding does not accept all breeds of dogs due to insurance restrictions. Boxers, Dobermans, German Shepherds, Mastiffs, Pit Bulls and Rottweilers, or any dog that is deemed to show aggressive tendencies cannot be accepted. Dogs staying at the facility must be older than 4 months of age, and spayed or neutered, if 6 months of age or older. Current flea treatment is required as well as proof of Bordetella, DHPP and Rabies vaccination.

Call (310)559-3647 to schedule a pre-boarding interview and tour of the facilities or email info@dogwooddaycare.com for more details.
